Committee okays pay hike

By LENNY INGRASSIA

An across the board four per cent pay hike was granted to county employees Friday in a tentative agreement reached by the Finance Committee of the Lee County Board. The increases total $814,954 and plunge the county's 1975-76 budget into a deficit of $32,598.

The decision came late in the Friday afternoon session, following two hours of heated discussion between board members and State's Atty. Patrick Ward and Treasurer Sharon U. Thompson, both speaking on behalf of county employees.

It was Ward who earlier in the day got committee approval on larger pay hikes for two of his assistant state's attorneys, the only county officer successful in such an attempt. An 18 per cent salary increase was granted to Atty. David Mandrgoc boosting his pay from $12,500 to $14,500 annually; a second assistant state's attorney, Daniel Creed was granted a $1,000 increase to $12,500, an 11.5 per cent increase.

The four per cent boost in pay for county employees was deemed a compromise on the part of the committee. It followed an employees group request of 12 per cent and an alternative proposal from Thompson of six per cent "more in line with the cost of living."

Donald Burke, District 3, had a different approach to distribution of wage hikes. He proposed a series of declining pay hikes of $25 per month for employees who fall under the $400 per month range; $20 hikes to those between $400 and $500 per month and down to $10 per month for those employees being paid more than $700 monthly.

Burke reasoned "the fellow on the bottom of the pay scale is getting hurt the most."

Ward charged: "You're punishing the long-time employees under that proposal."

James P. Green, District 4, emphasized "I'm going into this with the belief of a zero raise until one is justified to me."

Committee Chairman Ernest Norden, District 1, first proposed a six per cent hike but later reduced it to the four per cent.

Once approval of the committee was received, Green calculated county employees salaries, over a four-year span will have increased by nearly 30 per cent.

The raises do not apply to elected or appointed officials or to part-time help.

Raises given to Ward's assistant state's attorneys were not what was proposed by the state's attorney. Ward had sought a boost to $18,000 for Mandrgoc and $14,500 for Creed, however, the proposal met with opposition.

Burke presented salaries for assistants in other northern Illinois counties saying "Ward's request is higher than all but one of these counties." Burke said Ogle County "with a similar population as ours has one assistant receiving $15,700 annually—here we have two and you're requesting $32,500."

Ward countered: "Our disposition rate is higher than these other counties—we handle 685 traffic cases each month—there's a need for two assistants."

Green followed suggesting an alternative plan of having one full- and one part-time assistant. Burke chimed in supporting a $2,000 increase for Mandrgoc and no increase in pay for Creed.

Ward answered: "You can't put an attorney on the same class as someone's wife working over at the nursing home."

Speaking of Ward's request, Green said "What we do here affects other employees—an increase here means an increase for others too."

Lowell Beggs, health board representative to the County Board was unsuccessful in his attempt to have $15,000 appropriated for a nursing director at the County Health Department. The director would have charge of three nurses at the department.

Henning, opposing the measure said "Does it make sense to hire a director to direct three nurses—I could understand if you had seven or eight, but not three."

"We need new programs and the nursing director could develop them," Beggs said. Henning answered "Everyone wants to start new programs and we tell them to hold the line."

Supervisor of Assessments Elmer Miller appeared before the committee to make his pitch for revenue sharing funds for a re-appraisal of county property. Miller brought out inequities between rural and urban areas as one reason for needing the re-appraisal but said the prime reason is inflation.

Henning asked why properties are not fairly assessed now. Miller replied "They never will be." Henning fired back "You can change that." Miller answered "Assessors are elected—what can I do about that?"

The committee scheduled a meeting for Monday at 1 p.m. to discuss its recommendations to the County Board Tuesday on the use of revenue sharing funds.

By BILL SHAW
A spectacular fire, termed the largest residential blaze in Dixon in a decade, gutted a three-apartment house at 706 North Brinton Ave. Friday night. Dixon Fire Chief Ed Pierce estimated damage to the 100-year-old frame structure, one of Dixon's oldest homes, at more than $35,000.

Flames from the fire were visible for miles. Smoke drifted throughout all parts of Dixon, as firemen battled the blaze.

No injuries were reported as a result of the fire which erupted well before the fire call was received at 7:20 p.m., according to Pierce. More than 20 firemen and six trucks from three departments were called to the scene. The three apartments were evacuated by the time the first fire truck reached the scene. City firemen attempted to stop the fire from spreading, according to Pierce, "but we were hampered by lack of water."

Smoke was pulsating from underneath the eaves when the first hose was aimed at the house's attic, where the fire started. At that point the fire was beyond containment efforts and quickly spread throughout the house.

Heavier hose was called for as two more city fire units and two units from the Dixon Rural Fire Department responded.

Dixon rural firemen connected hose across the railroad tracks at the corner of Brinton Avenue and Bradshaw Street. A check with Illinois Central Railroad officials in Freeport revealed a train was not due for two hours. As the wider hose was put to use, the water pressure from the four-inch city water main was unable to meet the increased demand for more water.

Chief Pierce reported his men were only getting 250 gallons of water per minute to fight the fire. He said that between 500-750 balloons per minute was normally expected from the mains. Pierce mentioned the mains at the Brinton Avenue location were some of the city's older ones and that a faulty valve or connection may have caused some of the problem.

Ashton firemen rushed to Dixon to help battle the fire. The Ashton team was involved in a homecoming parade when they were called. Ashton firemen hooked up a larger eight-inch main at McKenney and Galena Avenue and brought an additional supply of water to the fire, two blocks away. With the added water supply the fire was brought under control and quickly extinguished.

After the fire, Chief Pierce commented, "I don't think that more water pressure would have made much difference, the fire was well under way when we arrived."

An adjacent garage and building, north of the burning house, was not damaged. Firemen were able to climb to the roof of the nearby building and keep the flames from spreading.

Crowds estimated at several hundred gathered to witness the blaze. Traffic on many northside Dixon roads came to a standstill. Firemen reported several cars drove over hose as it stretched from Galena Avenue to Brinton.

Officials have been unable to determine a cause for the fire. Reports indicated it may have originated in a closet and spread to the attic area. Firemen noted, because of the age of the house, no fire stops had been built between the framework, which acted like a chimney. Most of the property in the downstairs apartment and the two upstairs apartments was lost. The apartment house is owned by Tom Kitson.

Government not working for citizens

President Gerald Ford and Secretary of State Henry Kissinger are working to patch up relations with Communist Cuba. They have given overseas branches of American manufacturing permission to sell their products to Castro. What has your State Department done to collect the $1.8 billion plants in Cuba that Castro stole from American investors?

The worst thing is all the people lingering in prison until they die. The killing of those who do not agree with Communists. The agents Castro has sent to the United States to murder people who are telling facts about conditions in Cuba.

Congress cuts spending on the armed services which protects our freedom and your sons' lives. They promote more social spending, which costs taxpayers a higher tax and more inflation. This has gone on for years. Do you have thoughts on how your government can be stopped from helping Communists and really be a beneficial government for the people of America?

Perhaps you like the federal Social Security system, but your thrifty senators and representatives do not. Aware of the danger of paying into it for a lifetime and then losing what little value is left because your lawmakers have created so much inflation that the money you will receive is nearly worthless. They have set up their own actuarially sound retirement program. Why have they not treated you as well?

It is now costing the working people of America $36 billion per year to just pay the interest on this high debt that Congress has created. The Treasury Department has informed Congress they will again have to raise the ceiling or stop wasting the taxpayer earnings. The people you have elected to these high public offices will have a laugh and vote a higher debt. They should worry, it is easy to get re-elected.

This year the government will borrow over $80 billion on top of what we now owe. Government debts are paid for by your loss of purchasing power. Business costs more and you have less money to spend. By a continuing process of inflation the government can confiscate secretly and unobserved an important part of the wealth of the citizens.

Your political leaders for years have promised that they will never again allow poverty or depression to devastate our land. They propose more government spending as a cure for our economic problems.

Whereas they are the only ones who have created inflation. You can trace every evil back to Congress that has spent more money than they take in as taxes and the harmful laws they pass to increase manufacturing costs.

Slippery backdoor pay raise

By JOHN F. McMANUS

BELMONT, Mass.— Inflation is not easing at all. Prices are still rising and the value of savings is shrinking almost daily. What is generally not known about inflation is that it is caused by government and no one else. Were such an easily proven fact more widely understood, the chance of something positive being done about it would be greatly increased.

The American people will be happy to know, therefore, that our Congressmen and Senators have also been hurt by inflation. The subject has even been debated in the halls of Congress, where many of our elected officials have openly discussed their own financial pinch.

So, the Members of Congress did something about inflation. What they did not help to alleviate the problem, however. In fact, it will make the problem worse for everybody. For what these men, who are directly responsible for inflation, had the nerve to do was vote themselves a pay raise!

Inflation, by definition, is an increase in the quantity of currency—a condition that causes a lowering of the value of all currency and a corresponding increase in prices. In order to cover its huge deficits, the federal government, acting through Congress, continually increases the quantity of currency. And these newly created paper dollars cheapen the value of all dollars. Hence, a higher price for everything and a diminished value for savings. If Congress would put an end to deficit spending and stop the printing presses, inflation would cease to be a problem for anyone, even the poor Senators and Representatives.

Most of the Members of Congress do not care to be reminded of this simple truth. Nor do they want the American people reminded either. Without doubt, they would just as soon keep the following maddening details about their new pay raise quiet, too:

(1) The pay raise measure was not a bill itself but was slipped through as an amendment to a Postal Service safety measure. (2) The pay raise was not a single increase in salary but an open-ended and guaranteed cost-of-living increase for Congress, cabinet officers, and other top federal officials. The first increase will take effect on October 1. Henceforth, no matter how much inflation the Congress causes or tolerates, its members will not suffer personally from their fiscal profligacy. (3) The measure was rushed through Congress in near-record time. During the period when citizen protest might have been generated, the news was dominated by the

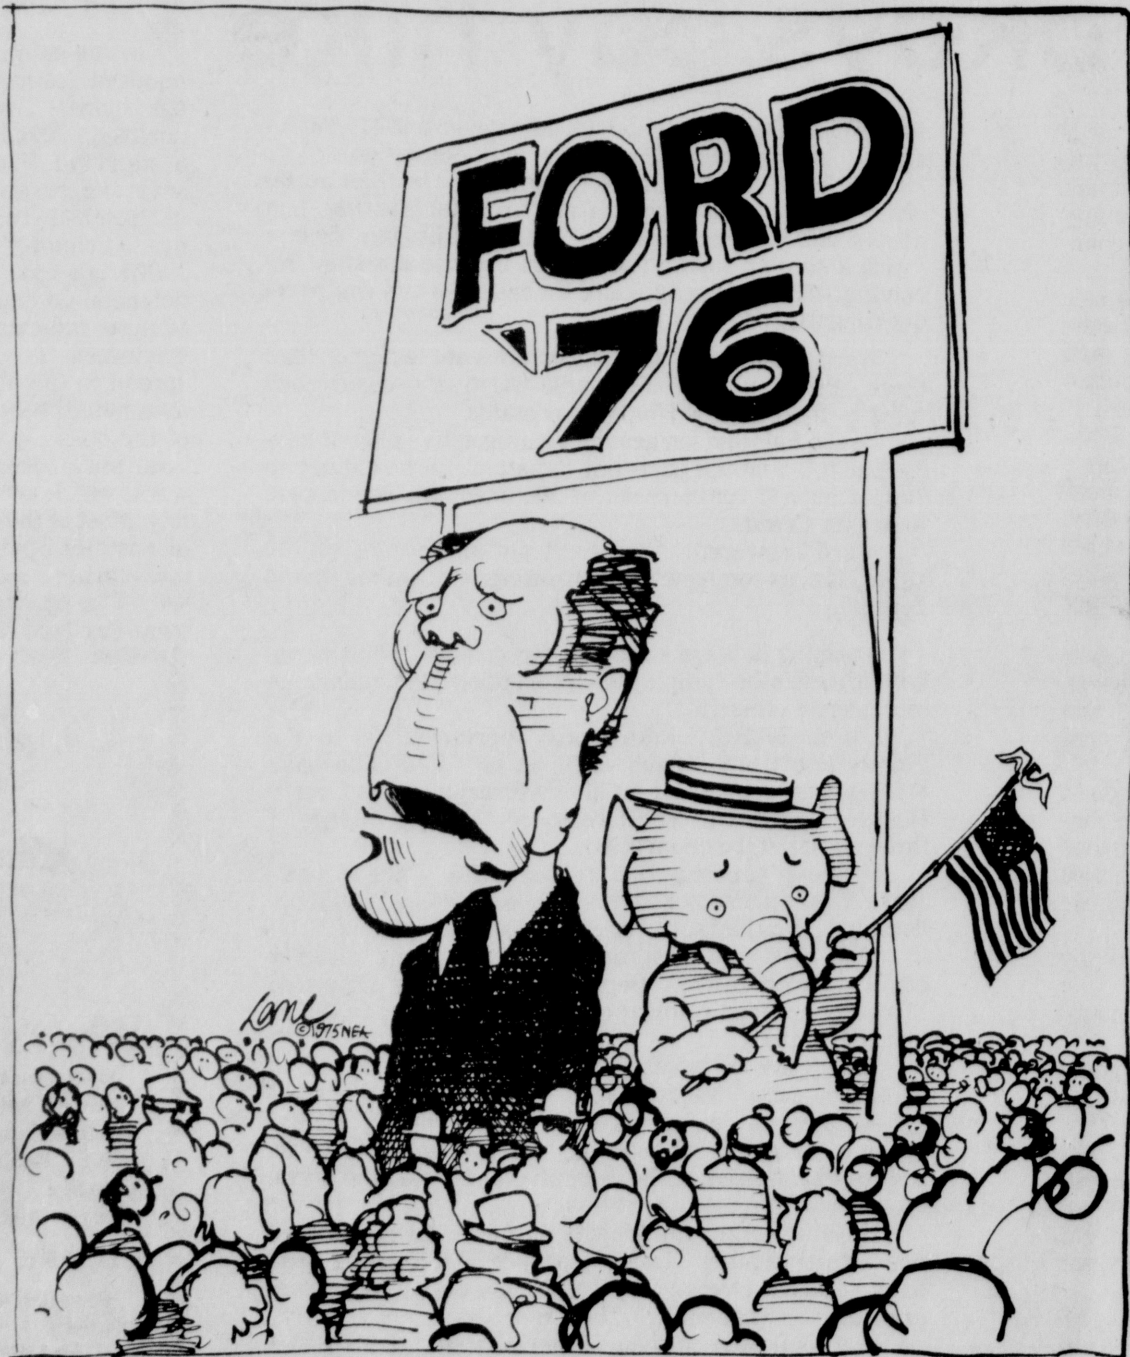

But the Senate passed the measure (58-29) on July 29 and it squeaked by the House (214-213) on July 30. During the debate, Congressman Shuster offered an interesting alternative. He said: "The American people would be better off if Congress got a pay decrease when the cost of living went up and a pay increase when the cost of living went down. Then we might see more fiscal responsibility in Washington."

President's trip to Europe and Congress's own mad dash to adjourn for a month-long vacation.

Sen. James Allen (D-Ala.) tried to block this supreme arrogance with amendments. He failed. Senator Harry F. Byrd (I-Va.) opposed it because it meant "that every decision-maker in Government, except the President, will be insulated from inflation." Congressman E. G. Shuster (R-Pa.) voted against it because of "the sly backdoor technique" employed to bring it to the floor, and "because it is the big spenders in Washington who cause the cost of living to rise." How right he is!

If he would bring that alternative before Congress for a vote, millions of Americans would enthusiastically support both it and those Members of Congress who voted for it.

Is a tax increase possible?

The actions of the Illinois General Assembly when it convenes Oct. 22 could well determine whether there will be a tax increase next spring. The indicators leading to a financial crisis are clear:

This is the first year since levying of the state income tax where Illinois' spending will exceed its financial resources unless spending is reduced.

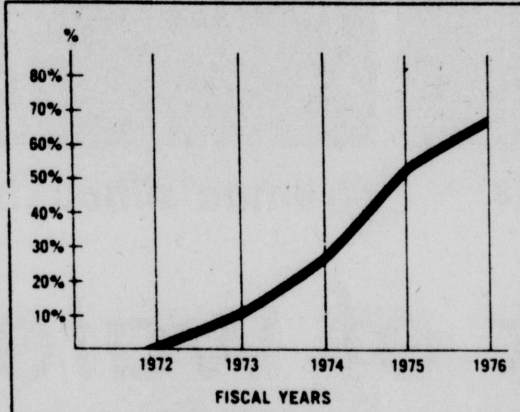

State spending has been increasing by 12 per cent a year but state revenue has been increasing by only 5 per cent.

The surplus of state cash built up during the "period of plenty" is getting down to zero. This surplus, called the budgetary balance, has been the only way the state has been able to balance its budget for the past three years.

The monthly available balance of funds from which the state pays its bills has been steadily declining for the past 13 months. If this down trend is not stopped the state will face a financial crisis within the next 10 months.

During the first two months of this fiscal year spending was up 30 per cent over a year ago.

SCHOOL FORMULA INCREASES

The increase in public aid case loads will require $150 million more by spring 1976 than the amount budgeted and provided by the General Assembly.

The choice facing the legislature is—cut spending or hike taxes! When the legislature finished appropriating money last spring, the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce estimated that proposed spending was $412 million higher than income. The ISCC urged an 8 per cent cut in spending. The governor vetoed up to 6 per cent from funds appropriated for various state supported programs.

WELFARE CASELOADS

Even with the veto cuts in various appropriations, the administration and state agencies must reduce spending by another $111 million to stay within revenues which will be available this fiscal year.

In addition to public aid, higher education and elementary and secondary education represent the majority of state spending, where the largest dollar amounts have to be controlled.

Higher education appropriation increases were cut 6 per cent.

Elementary and secondary education appropriation increases were cut about 4.9 per cent.

If the General Assembly overrides the vetoes, it could lead the way into financial disaster and hasten a tax increase. It must be recognized there is an upper limit to the demands of various governmental services.

Sustaining the vetoes will:

Represent a renewed commitment by the General Assembly for concern of the taxpayer during this time of economic stress.

Allow time for the state's revenue picture to improve with the expectation of an improvement in the Illinois economy over the next year.

Serve notice the legislature cannot and will not capitulate to demands to spend money the state does not have.

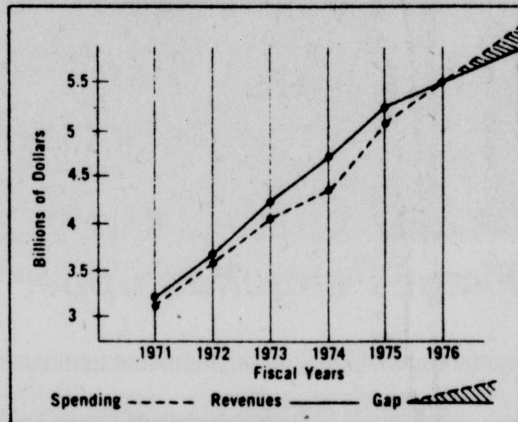

All school districts can use more money but there is a big difference between providing all the funding sought during a time of plenty and providing it when the state budget is in precarious shape.

Even with the veto cuts, state support to public education will increase by $108 million—up 7.5 per cent from last year.

With about 26,000 fewer students to educate this year state support through just the school aid formula will provide an average of $43 more per pupil—up 9 per cent over last year.

During the past four years enrollments have dropped almost 122,000 students while $434.5 million more has been distributed through the formula. This is equivalent to a 67 per cent increase per pupil.

GENERAL REVENUE AND COMMON SCHOOL FUNDS

Spurred on by the insatiable demands of teacher unions for contract settlements beyond the funds available to local school districts the General Assembly will be besieged to override the vetoes affecting elementary and secondary education. In addition, a number of other groups will be urging restoration of funding cuts in areas of special interest to them.

Things Dixon Talked About

25 YEARS AGO

Programs were announced today for meetings to be held here by the Lee County teachers institute and the Rock River Division of the Illinois Education Association. The meetings will be held Oct. 12 and 13 at the Dixon High School auditorium. Approximately 1,500 teachers from the Ogle, DeKalb, Whiteside and Lee Counties are expected to attend Friday while 350 Lee County teachers are expected for the institute Thursday.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Whiteside and Lee County Medical Society will have a dinner-meeting at 6:30 tomorrow evening at Jul's Farm. After the dinner a short business meeting will be held, followed by a new movie on "Cancer."

50 YEARS AGO

A very large delegation of students and football fans from Dixon motored to Mendota today to witness the clash between the high school teams of the two cities. Mendota has maintained a lead in the scoring over Dixon for the past two seasons and the local squad was confident of winning back lost laurels.

Schools of Lee County will be dismissed for one week Oct. 19 through 24 for the annual teacher's institute in this city and the Northwestern Division meeting at Rockford. Several school boards are planning on making improvements in their schools during this week.

MR. AND MRS. GARY BUCCOLA

Pierce-Buccola exchange vows

Immanuel Lutheran Church in Dixon was the setting for the August wedding of Miss Thesesa Pierce and Gary Buccola. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Pierce, Dixon. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Buccola, Sr., also of Dixon.

Performing the afternoon ceremony was the Rev. Paul R. Bollman. Miss Lory Ann Evett, Dixon, sang while Miss Cora Schaefer, Franklin Grove, played the organ.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a traditional floor-length gown of imported silk organza, and Venice lace designed with a square neckline, empire bodice and Dresden sleeves.

A soft silhouette of lace highlighted with a self-ruffle hemline extended into a chapel-length train. A cap of Venice lace and seed pearls secured a three-tiered veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white gladiolus, foliage and baby's breath with white ribbons.

Serving as her sister's maid of honor was Miss Sylvia Pierce, Dixon. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jim Deadmond, Dixon, Mrs. Kenneth Henley, Jr., La Mirada, Calif., and Miss Diana Buccola, sister of the groom. Each of the attendants wore gingham gowns with eyelet ruffle featuring ruffled founcles and short puffed sleeves in colors of blue, yellow, green and pink. They wore white picture hats with ribbon to match their gowns and carried colonial bouquets of white daisy pompons, blue statice, baby's breath with multi-colored ribbons.

Jim Deadmond, Dixon, was best man. Groomsmen were Gary Pierce and Allan Buccola, Dixon, and Dave Johns, Polo. Seating the guests were August Schulte, Jr., Roger Clayton and Paul Blackburn, all Dixon residents.

Participating as ceremonial flower girl was Little Miss Nancy Cowley, cousin of the bride, who wore a lavender gingham dress identical to the attendant's gowns. She carried a colonial bouquet of daisy pompons, blue statice and baby's breath. Bryan Cowley, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception honoring the couple followed the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Miss Christine Dempsey, Harmon, Mrs. Roger Clayton, Mrs. Monty Cotter, Dixon, Miss Carol Willey, Evanston, and Mrs. Dave Johns, Polo.

Since their honeymoon to Wisconsin Dells, the couple has been residing at 320 North Court, Dixon.

The new Mrs. Buccola is a 1974 graduate of Dixon High School and is presently employed by Red Carpet Market.

Mr. Buccola is a 1972 graduate of Dixon High School and is employed at Hardware Wholesale Inc., Dixon.

17-year-old not normal; needs doctors and prayers

Dear Ann Landers: We have a 17-year-old son whose entire personality changed about three years ago. He has been on drugs, totaled two cars, won't attend regular school, refuses to work, comes in whenever he feels like it (drunk or stoned), has little contact with other members of the family, doesn't care for girls (says he can't find the "right one"), has seen a psychiatrist three times, went to a mental health clinic, refuses to go back, says they are all crazy there.

The chief psychiatrist informed us they "couldn't handle the problem" but he never did tell us what the problem was. The conversation ended when the doctor said, "It is impossible to help someone who doesn't want to be helped."

We keep hoping our son will mature but he doesn't seem to be making any progress. He wears the oldest, dirtiest clothes he can find, goes barefoot most of the time, and walks on the heels of his Levis.

We are a middle-class, church-going family, have given him plenty of love and done our best. Now I ask you, is this a normal child? Is there anything on the face of the earth that can be done for him that we haven't thought of? — Distraught Parents

Dear Parents: By no stretch of the imagination can that child be considered normal. He is hostile, self-destructive, unmotivated and emotionally disturbed. If you have not had him evaluated by a neurologist I recommend it. The problem may be something more than behavioral.

Please don't sit around waiting for him to "grow up." It won't happen. Keep working with professionals and pray the boy will find a release from the prison of his warped mind.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm dating a young man who is 26, good-looking, well-dressed, drives an expensive car and always has plenty of money to spend. Funny thing is he doesn't have a steady job, just works a few Saturdays in a men's shop when he feels like it.

I hate to be nosy because he's a neat date, but I'm worried about his cash flow, which seems endless. I can't figure out where it comes from. — Money Talks

Dear Concerned: Money sure does talk but it doesn't tell where it comes from. I suggest you ask this bird some direct questions. If the answers don't add up, give Mr. Gotrocks a Methodist Handshake and send him on his way.

Dear Ann Landers: I was engaged to Clem for six months. I broke off with him because he wouldn't stop drinking. Two months ago he promised to give up the bottle forever if I'd give him one last chance. I agreed. Well, he hasn't stopped drinking. All that has changed is that

Phidian Art Club

The Phidian Art Club opened its fall season with a buffet luncheon on Tuesday at the Oregon Country Club. Mrs. C. Stephen Reed, Mrs. Horace Etnyre, and Mrs. James Hay received their guests wearing embroidered satin and brocade Mandarin coats, in keeping with the "around the world" theme of the afternoon.

The small tables were covered with gold colored cloths and centered with cut glass bowls of polished apples and sprigs of ivy. Other accessories on the tables and around the dining room included lovely antique cut glass pieces as well as copper and brass.

Following the luncheon Mrs. W. A. McNichols Jr., program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Robert Cecil of Grand Detour. Mr. Cecil is president of R. D. Cecil and Company, which specializes in management seminars, personnel counseling, and publication of personal development and management development books and courses. He holds a B.A. degree from Northwestern University and an M.B.A. degree from Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He has conducted management training seminars for the Pentagon, U.S. Navy, U.S. Army, Caterpillar Tractor, Civil Service Commission, Rush Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center, Warner-Lambert Pharmaceuticals, and many other organizations. Mr. Cecil is presently a Lt. Commander in the Naval Reserve, having served in the Navy from 1963 to 1966. He is the son of Mrs. Horace Etnyre of Oregon, Ill.

Mr. Cecil's topic was "Gullible's Travels — Around the World in 50 Days." After taking the members on a whirlwind tour through some 26 countries he had visited, his talk centered on Russia. He described how its present national image has evolved since the Bolshevik Revolution following World War I when there was political and economic chaos, 75 per cent illiteracy, and a 17th century, non-industrialized,

The program was preceded by a business session conducted by Mrs. Thomas Hoye, president.

Mrs. Wilbur Stitzel, Jr., curator of exhibits, announced that there was a display of surgical instruments belonging to Dr. Grove Moss in the Loveland Community House Gallery.

At her request, the name of Mrs. Stanley Weber was placed on the associate list.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 21, in the Loveland Community House.

Carrots—good buy and nutritious

Carrots are a good buy the year around, reports Irene Downey, University of Illinois Extension food and nutrition specialist.

An average-sized carrot provides over 5,000 I.U. (International Units) of vitamin A—the recommended amount of vitamin A for the average healthy adult is 4,000 I.U.

When buying carrots select firm, fresh, well-shaped ones with a good color. Ms. Downey recommends. Avoid wilted, flabby, soft, or shriveled carrots. Refrigerate them in a plastic bag or in the hydrator until ready to use.

Wash carrots just before use. Conserve nutritive value by scraping or peeling carrots thinly. Leave them whole, slice, dice, shred, or cut into strips. Use them cooked or raw.

In addition, carrot sticks make a low calorie snack for calorie counters and an inexpensive "dunkers" for dips and spreads.

Second hand high tears it

By Oswald & James Jacoby

North was a trifle weak for his Stayman two-club response, but he had fallen in love with his spade sequence. He might well have passed at two diamonds, but North believed in bidding.

South had no problem about going to game. He only held 16 high-card points, but his three 10s appeared to be worth their weight in gold.

The 10 of diamonds wasn't really needed, but the other two were. He won the club queen lead with dummy's king and counted eight easy winners: four diamonds, two clubs and the major suit aces. Where was the ninth one to come from? Hearts, of course! All he had to do would be to find East with one heart honor. So at trick two he played dummy's three of hearts.

East had one heart honor, but he knew what to do with it. He played it right away!

South put on his ace and decided, as anyone would, that East held the other heart honor. He couldn't afford to let East in

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE E-690: Delbert G., aged 17, is a high school senior. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I am also president of our church Young People's Society. "And next week I am to talk on the importance of religion in preserving our Republic. "So I thought it would be interesting to consult WHO's WHO and see the various church denominations that the likely presidential candidates belong to. "But I was surprised to find that many of those who are widely regarded as the leaders, fall even to mention that they belong to any church at all! "Oh, they list all their fraternity and country club memberships, plus the military honors they have received, yet don't even mention whether they are church members. "Yet I happen to know that some of them actually do belong to a church! "So why do they put social clubs and fraternity memberships ahead of their church?"

Political Greed? Do you readers think it is political greed for more votes on election day? "If I mention my specific religious denomination," one such politician once told me, "I will probably alienate far more voters of the other denominations, so I tactfully omit saying I belong to any church."

Many of them also "tactfully" omit saying they are chronic drunkards! Yet a newspaper feature story earlier this year related the tragic fact that many members of Congress are such chronic alcoholics they reek of whiskey fumes as they walk down the corridors of the Capitol Building.

And in their half-drunken condition, they vote on crucial bills, to levy continually higher taxes on the real creative workers of America.

Even President Ford recently admitted that within a few more years, 50 per cent of Americans will be living on the backs of the other 50 per cent who are still productive workers!

Why this terrible reversal of the purpose of our Founding Fathers, who wanted to keep government from fettering our creative workers and private industries with taxes and tax-exempt federal competing corporations?

You experienced readers recognize the usual greed of Congressmen to keep lifelong tenure of their elected offices!

It is euphemistically called "Potomac Fever." Following Delbert's lead, I also thumbed through the latest issue of WHO'S WHO and found that several of the most prominent potential presidential candidates never mentioned their religious connections.

But the following men did, so try to match them with their denominations, which I have jumbled to test your wits:

- (a) Ford
- (b) Jackson
- (c) Hartke
- (d) Rockefeller
- (e) Wallace
- (v) Methodist
- (w) Baptist
- (x) Presbyterian
- (y) Episcopalian
- (z) Lutheran

Harry Truman was admired by both Democrats and Republicans because he took definite, POSITIVE stands, even though not all his Democratic followers and Republicans agreed with him!

But voters like sincerity, even when they disagree with a candidate!

We now have too many mealy-mouthed chameleons who change colors easily!

Here are the answers: (a-y), (b-x), (c-z), (d-w), and (e-v).

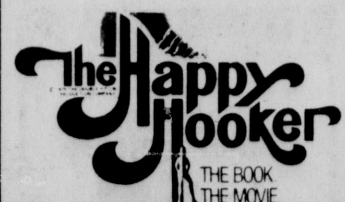

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs, when you send for one of his booklets)

'Old Ironsides' still a vision of a nation

EDITOR'S NOTE — Today she lives out her long life at the Boston Navy Yard, still in commission; a permanent exhibit for the people of the United States and a reminder of the nation's rich naval heritage.

By EDMUND PINTO
Associated Press Writer

The stories they tell about "Old Ironsides" still stir the imagination with visions of a young nation struggling to survive.

The pirates of Algiers, Tunis and Tripoli, and the ships of the great British navy — these were the adversaries of the USS Constitution.

Her men were jaunty, bold sailors who engaged the 49-gun frigate, HMS Guerriere, in the War of 1812 and, after a 30-minute battle, forced their British adversaries to surrender.

For a sea battle, it was one of the shortest in history, but its results have lingered on for 200 years: the Constitution earned its famous nickname, "Old Ironsides," in this battle and the United States won a reputation as a first-class naval power.

She wasn't around at the birth of the nation. She joined the family more than 21 years after independence was declared, but in American folklore the name USS Constitution is firmly implanted in the exploits of those early years.

Construction was authorized by Congress in 1794 after an outbreak of war between England and France that saw both interfere with neutral U.S. shipping. To fashion her into the biggest frigate of her time, the craftsmen who built her had her timbers cut from live oak, red cedar, white oak, pitch pine and locust taken from forests from Maine to Georgia.

They laid her keel at Hart's shipyard in Boston, near where she is tied up today at Constitution Wharf. The Constitution was held together with spokes and copper bolts supplied by Paul Revere.

Truly she was a national ship.

She was launched 178 years ago this fall and while she won her fame as "Old Ironsides" in her victory over the Guerriere, it was her successes over the Barbary pirates that began her reputation as a fighting ship.

The Constitution was not yet four years old, untested in major combat, when the Bashaw of Tripoli cut down the flagstaff at the American consulate on May 10, 1801, declaring war on America. He hoped to increase the tribute America was paying him, but the infant nation sent warships instead.

The Constitution sailed from Boston as the flagship of Commodore Edward Preble's Mediterranean fleet. The American warships arrived in Gibraltar on Sept. 12, 1803, and almost immediately disaster struck. The frigate Philadelphia went aground and was captured by enemy gunboats.

The story of the daring raid, planned aboard the Constitution, to wrest this prize from pirate grasp is well known in U.S. history. It is the story of the bravery of Lt. Steven Decatur and 74 officers and men who slipped into Tripoli harbor at night aboard a captured enemy ketch, the Mastico, renamed Intrepid.

Through a ruse, the American seamen gained the decks of the Philadelphia with cutlasses flashing before the pirates could organize resistance. Decatur completed his mission in 15 minutes, recapturing the ship and setting it afire, for there was no way to sail it from the enemy harbor.

With the ship ablaze and the entire harbor and its defenses alerted, Decatur regained Intrepid and somehow sailed from the grasp of the angry pirates. Not a single American life was lost.

From Tripoli to Tunis to Algiers, the events set in motion by Decatur's raid and carried out by naval battle and blockade led by the Constitution freed America from the shackles of corsair extortion and planted the tradition of freedom of the seas for American merchant vessels.

That tradition was to be tested in the last great war with England, the War of 1812, where the Constitution again proved her mettle, to the surprise of English naval officers. They had believed that the Constitution and others of her class were too heavy and too clumsily constructed to outmaneuver British men of war.

In the beginning, the United States outfitted 17 warships, including the Constitution, against more than 1,000 British ships.

COUNTRY AND WESTERN FAN Tammy Patterson could be expected to find friends at a place like Opryland U.S.A. in Nashville, Tenn. A couple of good examples are Boscoe the clown and Charlie Macaw, a scarlet-feathered immigrant from South America, left, and Bo the chimp, center. But for a moment it appeared an ice cream cone might come between Tammy and a certain greedy goat, right. Tammy, 6, of Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., is the March of Dimes 1976 National Poster Child.

Police search for convicts

MARION, Ill. (AP) — One hundred police and government agents set up a massive dragnet today after five convicts escaped the nation's highest security federal prison.

State police urged residents to evacuate their homes and arm themselves but later said no such statement had been authorized officially. Prison officials termed the warning regrettable and unnecessary.

The dragnet was spread across the desolate Crab Orchard National Wildlife Refuge and nearby territory after the five apparently used special equipment to "jimmy" three gates and walked out the prison's front door.

The breakout is believed to have taken place around 8 p.m. Friday. Early Saturday reports spread of a warning by police to local residents to evacuate and arm themselves.

A trooper at DuQuoin State Police headquarters told a newsman by telephone: "We consider them very dangerous and urge people to evacuate their homes and arm themselves." The officer later said he checked with his superiors and was told no such statement had been authorized.

Earlier, a prison spokesman said: "Regretfully, this statement was made by local authorities. It is unnecessary."

The spokesman said there was no reason to think that the fugitives were armed.

The fugitives were identified as Edward P. Roche, 39, of Katonah, N.Y.; Arthur T. Man-kins, 37, of Germantown, N.C.; Dennis Hunter, 26, of Salem, Ohio; Henry M. Gargano, 43, of Chicago, and Morris J. Phillion, 40, of Oakland, Calif.

Prison officials said Phillion was serving a 50-year sentence for bank robbery and assaulting a federal officer. Roche was serving 39 years for two bank robberies, they said. They said Gargano was sentenced to 199 years for bank robbery and murder.

Authorities said Hunter was serving 25 years for kidnapping and Mankins a life term for murder.

As the search proceeded in the scrubby, pine-dotted hills around the prison, police said there was no sign of the fugitives. Marion, constructed a decade ago to replace Alcatraz as the government's top security institution, is surrounded by two chain-link fences with pools of concertina wire between them.

Two previous successful escapes took place in 1971. Roche and Gargano were charged last year along with three other men of plotting to escape by using weapons stolen from a National Guard armory in Florida, but they were acquitted.

Gargano was convicted of the 1967 robbery of a bank in the Chicago suburb of Northlake in which two policemen were killed and two were injured.

Despite the early morning evacuation warnings, there was no sign of panic or that residents of this Williamson County community were leaving their homes.

Only Dixon score

Mike McDonald cracks right end, encounters little opposition and begins a 71-yard touchdown jaunt on the fourth play of the Dixon-Sterling NCIC encounter at Roscoe Eades Field in Sterling Friday night. ## Dukes claim golf District, Ansted takes medalist title

Wally Ansted won his second consecutive medalist title, while the Dixon Dukes captured the 12-team District event held at the Dixon Country Club Friday.

Ansted carded a one-under par 71 to take the individual title. Ansted had a 33 on the front nine, backed with a 38 on the last nine holes. Ansted finished with a 75 to win the medalist honors in 1974.

The Dukes claimed the team title with a 309 total, to better the 312 posted by Freeport and a 316 by Mendota. The top three teams earn the right to advance to Sectional play at Bloomington's Highland County Club next Friday.

Other team scores were Moline 321, Rock Falls 326, Alton 327, Princeton 328, Kewanee 330, Sterling 331, East Moline 338, Geneseo 339 and Rock Island 344.

Mark Ruthey was second with a 74. Ruthey is from East Moline. Third-place finisher Tom Short of Freeport, plus Dan Schneider of Freeport who was fourth, and fifth-place finisher Doug Brockman of Rock Falls all carded 76's. Jack Johnston, who was fifth last year, took sixth with a 77 this time. Johnston attends Rock Falls.

Ruthey, Brockman and Short will also make the Sectionals, based on the top three teams and top three players not on qualifying teams earning the right to advance. Stan Hark carded a 42-36—78 for the Dukes, while Scott Wigginton had a 79 based on splits of 39-40.

Tom Stewart contributed a 39-42—81. Non-counting scores were an 85 turned in by Jeff Wallace and an 88 by Bill Dixon.

The 'Green Monster' looms

BOSTON (AP) — "The Green Monster" looms above the 1975 World Series and it could be a horror story or a happy ending, depending on the way it's played.

The famous left field wall at Fenway Park — also known as "The Jolly Green Giant" — to right-handed hitters — has the starring role as the drama of the 72nd Series unfolded today between the Cincinnati Reds and the Boston Red Sox.

"It's got to make me more alert," said Cincinnati left fielder George Foster, who saw the "Giant" for the first time at Friday's workouts. "I realize that what I do with the wall could have an outcome on the game."

A word of encouragement comes from Carl Yastrzemski, who is perhaps the best living expert on the 37-foot compilation of concrete and tin. He has played 15 years in Fenway Park and owns six Golden Gloves for his masterful performances in the treacherous left-field arena.

"There have been guys who've come in here for the first time and played hell of that wall," said Yaz, Boston's acknowledged leader. "They've played it much better than I ever could."

This is the problem with the wall: when a ball hits the lower concrete half, it shoots straight out like a bullet. When it hits the tin above, it drops straight down. When it hits on the scoreboard, it takes crazy bounces — usually toward right-center field. When it hits into the left-field corner, a maze of nooks and crannies, it jumps around like a bezerk pinball.

"You have to make your decision quickly on how you're going to play the ball — and stick to it," said Yastrzemski. "I usually like to play it safe. I don't gamble on trying to make a spectacular catch unless there's a big run or a game in the balance."

Foster agreed in safety first, too. "I'll play it safe," the lithe outfielder pointed out. "I'm not going to be over-aggressive and charge around like crazy. I'll just have to feel my way, I guess."

Boston Manager Darrell Johnson, quite logically, thinks that Yaz has a dramatic edge over fledgling Foster in playing the crucial position.

"My left fielder knows a little more about that wall than a guy who has only seen it once," Johnson points out.

But Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson says it ain't necessarily so.

"I think that we'll be having George Foster playing a little deeper than Yaz," says Anderson. "He knows how to play the ball out there so he can afford to play a little closer than most outfielders. With this kind of uncertainty, it will be to our advantage to play back a bit."

"One thing that I don't think has been brought out too much is that we're the type of club which could lose a few home runs over that wall."

This best-of-seven Series for the world championship features two of the hungriest clubs in baseball. The Reds are shooting for their first World Series triumph since 1940. And the Red Sox last won it in 1918.

Walnut wins first

WALNUT—The Walnut Blue Raiders rolled to a 20-0 halftime lead and held on to defeat the Manlius Red Devils, here, Friday night in a Blackhawk Conference football game. The win shattered a five-game losing streak by the Blue Raiders and was turned in for the Walnut homecoming fans.

Toby Greenwood scampered 68 yards to paydirt on the Blue Raiders first offensive play to give Walnut a 6-0 lead. The conversion run failed but Ken Wilcoxon upped the margin to 12-0 before the quarter expired on a two-yard plunge.

Pete Miller added the conversion run and the Blue Raiders held a 14-0 advantage. Walnut made it 20-0 in the second quarter as Jack Oberle lofted a 34-yard pass to Miller. The run failed.

Manlius came back to tally twice in the third stanza on Walnut mistakes. The visitors blocked a Blue Raiders punt with the ball being downed on the Walnut 14. Two plays later, Greg Whitmer of Manlius bolted into the end zone from six yards out.

A Walnut fumble handed the ball back to the Red Devils on the Blue Raiders 22. Again it took the visitors two plays to reach the end zone. Steve Carrel fired a 17-yard aerial to Jim Harp for the six-pointer.

Manlius sliced the Walnut advantage to 20-14 in the last 12 minutes as the Red Devils blocked a punt only to have the ball go out of the end zone for a safety. Greenwood finished with 146 rushing yards in 18 carries in addition to a 65-yard scoring jaunt called back in the third quarter.

Miller added 81 net yards on the 34-yard pass plus 47 rushing yards in 17 attempts. "The kids did real well defensively," Chuck Lane, Walnut head varsity coach stated. "The Manlius scores came off our offensive mistakes."

"We had seven fumbles with six in the final half with us losing the ball three times. We just nullified our own offense. It just feels good to win, though." Honored during halftime ceremonies was Walnut homecoming queen Laura Lund, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lund.

Walnut, now 1-5 in Blackhawk action, goes to league-leading Princeville next Friday.

Ohio ups Little Eight record to 4-1

Bulldogs romp over Eagles 46-0

By MIKE CUNIFF
Telegraph Sports Editor
OHIO—Everyone defines it differently, including Charlie Brown, but to the Ohio Bulldogs "happiness" was a 46-0 rout over the Wyanet Eagles, here, Friday night in a Little Eight Conference football game.

Since the occasion was homecoming for the Bulldogs and fans, the happiness was readily apparent among those present who happened to follow Ohio football fortunes. The Bulldogs raced to a 38-0 halftime bulge, despite giving up the ball three times on fumbles, and coasted to their fourth Little Eight win against a solitary loss.

Now 5-1 Overall
Ohio is now 5-1 overall and travels to winless Neponset next Friday. Mike Anderson keyed the Bulldogs win over Wyanet with three touchdowns and the same number of two-point conversion dashes, while Jim Brandau scored a pair of touchdowns on a 60-yard pass interception and a 12-yard aerial plus one two-point conversion.

Bruce Schultz added the final Ohio six-pointer on a 19-yard pass from Bulldogs senior quarterback Duane Blaine, who was five of seven, passing for 87 yards in the opening 24 minutes.

Neither team could hang onto the ball the first three minutes as Wyanet lost an interception (Blaine pulling off the theft) and a fumble, sandwiched around a Blaine bobble for Ohio. Blaine scampered for 35 yards on the Bulldogs' first play after his own interception, but the senior quarterback lost connection with the football and Mike Pruitt fell on the bobble on the Wyanet 18, with 10:52 left.

Anderson Covers
The Eagles ran two plays before a fumble was covered by Ohio's Anderson on the Wyanet 15. Anderson then cracked right guard for the 15 yards and six points with 9:07 showing. The 5'8"—170 senior halfback added his first conversion run over left guard and the Bulldogs were up 8-0.

Wyanet's Karl Reimer returned the kickoff 16 yards to the Eagles 36. Charlie Crayne zoomed up the middle for 14 and then turned right end for five more. Joe Bates picked up one, and Crayne got two to make it four and two.

Ohio's Bob Albrecht stopped Crayne's momentum after a gain of one on the next play and the Bulldogs took over on downs. Anderson picked up 19 yards, but Schultz lost control of the ball after a gain of five on the ensuing play. Wyanet's Marlon Heuer came up with the fumble.

Cooney's Big Rush
A big rush by Ohio's Joe Cooney on the next series forced Bates to unload the ball for an intentional grounding call. The Eagles punted, with Brandau lugging the pigskin back five yards to the Wyanet 47.

The Bulldogs could do nothing and punted, but got the ball back again rather quickly as Brandau dropped on an Eagle fumble on Wyanet's first play from scrimmage. Brandau made his recovery on the Eagles' 18 and Ohio moved the ball into the end zone in only three plays.

Anderson cracked the middle for two before Rusty Richards and Crayne threw Anderson for a loss of three. Blaine then lofted a pass that Schultz grabbed coming out of the backfield. Schultz turned upfield and cruised into the end zone at the 8:29 mark. Anderson tacked on the conversion via a run.

Up Margin to 22-0
The Bulldogs upped their margin to 22-0 with 6:06 left in the second quarter as Anderson zoomed around right end for 10 yards and a touchdown. Ohio took over after a punt and moved 41 yards in five snaps of the ball.

Anderson slanted into the line twice for a net of six yards, while Tim Hermeyer added 13 and Dan Piper got a dozen. The Bulldogs added a pair of six-pointers before the half expired as Brandau returned a tipped (Herb Dremann) Bates pass for 60 yards, with 2:56 left, and then took a 12-yard scoring strike from Blaine as Ohio marched 64 yards with less than a minute on the clock.

Brandau added a two-point conversion catch after his first touchdown, for a Bulldogs 30-0 advantage. Wyanet once again turned the ball over on downs, with Ohio getting the ball on its own 36 with :54 showing.

Blaine to Dale
Blaine connected with Joe Dale for 30 yards before Crayne pushed the Bulldogs receiver out-of-bounds. Brandau then fumbled a pass before Blaine hit Tom Yucus on a tackle-eligible toss for 22 yards.

Brandau then broke over the middle and cradled Blaine's aerial for a dozen yards for the touchdown. Anderson ran the conversion and the Bulldogs had an insurmountable 38-0 advantage with a dozen ticks remaining on the clock.

Ohio added its final touchdown in the third stanza on a 14-yard swing pass to Anderson. The six-pointer was set up by an 11-yard pass to Brandau and an 11-yard dash by Larry Downey. Anderson's third conversion scamper of the night made the final tally 46-0.

McDonald Theft
Mark McDonald picked off Ohio's fourth interception of the contest with 1:13 to go. "This is definitely not our regular defense," Jerry Allen, Ohio head varsity coach, commented after the victory.

"Anderson has been playing good (defensive) ball inside all night." Anderson led the Bulldogs with five tackles and a like number of assists plus a pair of quarterback sacks. Piper added six stops, four assists and one pass deflected, while Albrecht had figures of four and five, respectively.

Yucus chipped in with four tackles, one assist and a blocked punt. "Our secondary deep has been giving good coverage," Allen went on. "They have been burning us with the little swing pass but that wouldn't happen if our defense played its usual game."

"Played Good Game"
"Anderson played a good game offensively while Blaine threw the ball well in the first half." Blaine ended with eight completions out of 15 tosses for 114 yards and a trio of touchdowns.

The Bulldogs added 213 yards rushing for a net total game-wide of 327 yards. Wyanet was limited to 96 total markers, with 53 via the ground.

Kelly's touchdowns help Newman roll

ERIE—Jeff Kelly scored three touchdowns and gained 83 yards rushing to pace the Newman Comets to a 33-6 triumph over the Erie Cardinals, here, Friday night in a Three Rivers football battle.

Newman stayed atop the Three Rivers Standings with a 4-0 record with the triumph. The Comets are now 5-1 for the campaign. Erie falls to 0-4-1 and 0-5-1, respectively.

A Kelly 10-yard dash was the only scoring for Newman in the opening half. Joe Hutten's kick conversion enabled the Comets to take a 7-6 lead. Cal Meyer plunged one yard for the Erie touchdown.

Kelly, Chuck Ruiz and Tom Warkins tallied a touchdown each for the Blue-and-White in the third quarter. Kelly zoomed in from five yards out, Ruiz duplicated the effort with a six-yard blast while Warkins returned a pass interception 45 yards for six points.

Hutten made one conversion, with the Comets taking a 26-6 advantage into the final quarter. Kelly added his third touchdown of the evening in the last 12 minutes on a one-yard effort. Jose Diaz toed the extra point.

The Comets lost the services of Art Ruiz, who incurred torn ankle ligaments during the game. "Penalties constantly set us back," Bob Million, Newman head varsity football coach stated. "We would get going and then get a 15-yarder and face a second and 25 situation."

Million credited tackle David Gonzalez and linebacker Jim Ditsch with outstanding performances on defense. Gonzalez had three tackles and six assists, while Ditsch contributed nine tackles and a pass interception.

Tom Hannan also snagged an Erie pass attempt as the Comets pulled in three interceptions. Chuck Ruiz added a fumble recovery. Kelly ended with 83 yards rushing in 19 attempts while Warkins contributed 65 markers in 11 chances.

Newman will not go to Fulton in a battle between the two Three Rivers co-leaders next Friday.

Morton gets his chance

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
Whenever a traded player comes up against his former teammates, the adrenalin shifts into high gear. With Craig Morton, the juices must be in overdrive.

For years, the one-time All-American quarterback at the University of California and Dallas' No. 1 draft pick in the 1965 National Football League draft spent much of his time on the sidelines, watching Roger Staubach call the Cowboys' signals.

Despite some brilliant performances, like his guiding Dallas to a Super Bowl, he was still considered the team's No. 2 quarterback. Ultimately the situation got to be untenable and Morton began the "play-me-or-trade-me" plea which has been voiced by more than a few disgruntled players who felt they were destined for stardom.

And eventually the Cowboys heeded his pleas and dealt Morton to the New York Giants, getting in return a No. 1 draft choice which ultimately turned out to be defensive end Randy White.

A few days after he switched uniforms, the Giants played the Cowboys. And although Morton passed for 185 yards in the three periods he played, Dallas won 21-7.

It wasn't a fair test, though, considering he was dealing with a wholly unfamiliar system. But he certainly made his presence felt in the long run. In their first seven games of 1974 the Giants scored just 68 points. In the last seven they scored 127. And for the season he completed 122 of 237 passes for 1,510 yards and nine touchdowns.

And on Sunday in New York, he has a chance to show the Cowboys what they lost.

In Sunday's other games it's the New York Jets at Minnesota, New England at Cincinnati, Houston at Cleveland, Green Bay at New Orleans, Oakland at Kansas City, Chicago at Detroit, Buffalo at Baltimore, Philadelphia at Miami, Denver at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles at San Diego and Atlanta at San Francisco. On Monday night it's St. Louis at Washington.

There'll be a lot of attention paid to another quarterback matchup. In Minnesota, the Vikings' Fran Tarkenton and Joe Namath of the Jets go head-to-head for the first time ever in regular-season play. And in Cincinnati, quarterback Jim Plunkett resumes his comeback from a preseason shoulder injury, leading the Patriots against the Bengals, who have not only the NFL's top passer in Ken Anderson but also own the toughest defense in the American Conference.

The Oilers, having tasted defeat for the first time this year — compliments of the Bengals last week — head into Cleveland, where Browns' Coach Forrest Gregg is still looking for his first victory.

Two other new head coaches are in the same boat with Gregg — but their chances of bailing out of the winless list appear vastly different. Bart Starr's Packers are going against the equally winless Saints, who have managed a mere 10 points in their three games, while Paul Wiggin's Chiefs have to try to slow down the unbeaten Raiders.

Hawks defeat Mounders 26-13

By JIM FOX
Telegraph Sports Writer
OREGON — When a game involves two super rivals one can expect a tough battle. And when the contest happens to be the homecoming game excitement is guaranteed.

The Oregon Hawks and the Mt. Morris Mounders were no exception, here, Friday evening as the impressive Hawks grabbed the Mid-Northern conference match 26-13. The score does not reflect the actual action that occurred in the wild melee.

Oregon zapped four touchdowns, two on runs of over 50 yards and two on pass plays of 59 and 76 yards. Mt. Morris scored twice, once on a 27 yard pass and once on a 60 yard pass-play. There were no one-yard plunges on the evening.

The Hawks amassed a staggering total yardage of 450 markers with 293 yards on the ground and 157 markers through the air. And Oregon is not known for its passing game. A scoreless first quarter was no indication of what was to come. In the initial period of action neither team was able to move the ball with authority. Each team had possession of the ball three times and each team was forced to punt it away on every possession.

With 1:19 remaining in the opening quarter Oregon started a drive that was to go 65 yards on eight plays and carry into the second quarter. Senior fullback Mike Kump was the big ball-handler in the drive.

Starting on their own 35 the Hawks began to roll, picking up small yardage. Kump drove for five, Greg Blumeyer one yard and Kump again on carries of 10, one, four and five yards to place the ball on the Mounders 39. But a clipping penalty cost Oregon 15 yards and the Hawks found themselves on their own 45 instead of in Mounders territory.

The clipping penalty seemed to add incentive to Oregon as Kump took the next hand-off and raced 55 yards for the score. The only threat to Kump as he ran down the sideline was Mt. Morris' Jeff Leopold, but a speedy Kump easily outraced the would-be tackler. The conversion attempt was stopped as Kump tried to take it over and Oregon had to settle for a 6-0 lead early in the second period.

A tough Oregon defense, which was to stay tough all night, allowed the Mounders nothing on its next possession and the visitors were forced to punt the ball away. Oregon drove for 53 yards on 13 plays, eating up over five minutes on the clock, but were stopped on the 23 on a fourth down play.

Mt. Morris decided it better start something if it were to spoil Oregon's Homecoming, and the Mounders proceeded to march downfield for a score that was highlighted by a 27 yard pass from Dan Waddelow to Ron Alden. The Mounders receiver caught the pass as a pair of Oregon defenders watched in anguish. Kevin Windett booted the extra-point and suddenly Mt. Morris had a 7-6 lead.

Lightning struck fast as the Hawks, just two plays later, went ahead in the exciting battle with 2:39 left in the half. Ed Smith, senior halfback, scrambled 59 markers for a TD that brought everyone to their feet. Although the conversion again failed, Oregon took a well-earned 12-7 lead into the locker room at half.

The last two quarters were all Oregon as the hosts, deciding to experiment with the passing game, scored twice on long pass-plays that found the Mounders secondary embarrassingly asleep. The sure arm of senior quarterback Scott Lewison connected with wide-open Dave Satterfield, as the clock read :21 remaining in the third period, on a 76 yard pass-play. Bill Fearer split the up-rights with a conversion kick and Oregon took a commanding 19-7 advantage.

On their first ball possession of the final quarter the Hawks tallied again. And again it was a wide-open Satterfield that pulled in a Lewison pass that ended in a 59 yard pass-play touchdown. As Fearer kicked the extra-point Oregon iced it 26-7.

The only scoring for the Mounders in the second half came on a nifty pass from punter Alden to Ken Kielsmeier on a fake punt play. Kielsmeier shook off numerous tacklers as the junior back stumbled into the endzone. The play was good for 60 yards and six points, but the Mounders had been out of the game for a long time.

Kump, who was called on for the important and tough yardage, picked up an unofficial 136 yards on 21 carries as leading rusher of the night. Smith ran for 118 markers on 16 carries. Lewison was three for four in the passing category and 157 yards. Total yardage reads 450 for the victorious Hawks.

Oregon now holds a 3-1 record in Mid-Northern conference action, while Mt. Morris drops to 2-3.

The Doctor Says: Reader asks about headaches

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
DEAR DR. LAMB — Would appreciate your comments on a very painful condition I have, cluster headache. I am taking medications, which so far haven't helped much. Are there any kinds of temporary relief that you have heard of that I might try?
DEAR READER — Cluster headaches are classified as a type of migraine headache. They are called "cluster" because they occur in a cluster of attacks, one after the other, then there may be a relatively long period of no headaches.

The headache usually begins with throbbing pain, high in one side of the nose and spreads to involve the eye on the same side and sometimes the forehead. Most victims are males.
They are treated just like a migraine headache. Ergotamine tartrate is the old standby that often helps. Sometimes Inderal (propranolol) is used or Sansert (methysergide). The latter has to be carefully supervised and is usually discontinued after five or at most six months, at least for a time. That is long enough to outlast most recurrent attacks of a cluster series.

There isn't much you can do for yourself, I'm sorry to say, except rid yourself of as many tensions as possible. But during a series of such headaches it is important to avoid all alcohol. Alcohol seems to cause these headaches during such a period. Once the series has stopped, alcohol no longer has any influence.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I know you have written about hysterectomy operations in your column many times, but I have never come across one I just heard. I am 54 and soon will have a total hysterectomy performed. A new neighbor of mine frightened me. She told me she had the same operation seven years ago and has been experiencing loss of hair for a year. When she shaves her un-derarms or legs there is practically no growth and if any it takes months. She is also experiencing loss of hair in other parts of her body. I can see the effect this has on her. Does this usually occur after such an operation? Can anything be done or taken to prevent this or to have regrowth? I need peace of mind before having the operation.

DEAR READER — I understand your concern, and your neighbor has done you a disservice, even though it is unintentional. No, no, no, a plain hysterectomy will not cause you to lose your hair.

A total hysterectomy includes removal of the body and cervical portion of the uterus. This alone doesn't even effect the function of the ovaries. If you have the ovaries taken out, too, that is more than a complete hysterectomy. In that case, particularly in a young woman, hormone replacement can be given which will do everything for you that the ovarian hormones were doing.

Loss of hair has multiple causes. It can be caused from a hormone problem, including problems with the thyroid gland, the adrenal gland, and the master pituitary gland under the brain. Hereditary factors may also be involved. Your neighbor has lost hair from other causes that apparently didn't even begin until six years after her operation.

A high price might keep you from buying a new home.

But a low price shouldn't.

A Wausau Home costs thousands of dollars less than comparable homes. Because of the way we buy materials and the efficiency of our controlled building system.

For example, every Wausau Home is built with the finest grade kiln-dried lumber. 100% copper plumbing. Real ceramic tile walls and floors in the bath.

We buy the very best and we buy in quantity. Which lowers the price, not the quality.

And we build under the very best conditions, indoors, out of the weather.

Stop by for a close look at a Wausau Home. But don't let our low prices scare you. That shouldn't keep you from buying the new home you want.

Welcome Home.
